Spring Reminders

The spring semester is just around the corner. There are a few financial services housekeeping items to keep in mind before the next semester starts.

- Insurance Waiver- If you are currently enrolled in an insurance plan separate from the school, you may submit an insurance waiver for the spring semester. If your insurance is not waived by January 31st, you will automatically be enrolled. Click here to submit the waiver.
- Student Statements- Billing statements are being sent out to students who are registered for courses. If you have questions about your bill, please contact us at sfs@campbell.edu or 910-893-1244.
- Payment Plans- Our office offers payment plans to students and/or parents. This is an opt-in service and can be set up through the student's TouchNet account. Click here to check out the different payment plan options.
- Bill Clearance- You must have bill clearance in order to move in to on-campus housing and begin classes. Click here to see what steps you need to take.
- Accepting Financial Aid- If you plan to utilize student loans and have not yet accepted them, do so now. You must log on and accept the loan, complete the entrance counseling, and sign the master promissory note. Click here to watch how.
- Completing RDS- If you are awarded a North Carolina Need Based Scholarship, you must complete the Residency Determination Service (RDS) within the first 45 days of class. Failure to do so will result in your NCNBS being rejected.

The Earnest Scholarship Fund

Earnest is a technology company that has been awarding students since 2019. They have awarded $875,000 to 185 deserving students through the Earnest Scholarship Fund. The company believes in giving back, so they use a portion of their profits to fund $5,000 scholarships for 10 students across the country. Last week they announced 50 scholarships for the Fall Earnest Scholarship Fund. The company wants to continue to help students achieve their educational goals with the Earnest Scholarship Spring 2023! Students and families can apply quickly and easily just click on the button below to get started!
