The English Department will waive the English 101 requirement for students who enter the university with a minimum verbal score of 700 on the SAT and an 'B' average on secondary level English courses. Eligible students do not receive credit hours for English 101.

*Note: Students who take the English Literature course/exam only will receive elective hours with a score of 4 (plus a 650 SAT verbal) or a score of 5 regardless of SAT scores.

Please note that the minimum scores for credit for all non-traditional credit programs are subject to change. The following scores represent minimum passing scores at the time this handbook was prepared. Campbell University uses the recommended standards for credit based upon the national norms in effect at the time the test results are tabulated; however, the University reserves the right to set the minimum scores for credit on any end-of-course examination or to cease to grant credit for a specific test or tests. All testing services make these standards available to candidates when reporting test results.
