Live, learn & grow together

What are RLCs?

Residential Learning Communities provide the opportunity to live with fellow students who share your major, career goals, and personal interests!

Through these exclusive communities, we connect you with programming, mentors, and experiences to help you successfully transition to campus life.

Since launching in August 2019, Residential Learning Communities have led to increased retention rates, higher grade point averages, and a built-in community.

Why Should I Join?

Thrive academically

Students who live in a Residential Learning Community typically have higher GPAs.

Build lasting friendships

Find a welcoming and tight-knit community that extends throughout your college career.

Lead with Purpose

Explore your major and career goals on a deeper level and find your purpose.

What Can I Expect?

- Live with students who share similar interests
- Take a class with your RLC suite-mates
- Live in a suite with built-in friends, roommates, study partners, meal buddies, and more
- Make a connection with the upperclassman Community Mentor who will guide your community, help teach the class, and share experiences.
- Form a relationship with your Faculty Fellow through class, monthly meals, and various out-of-classroom events. This faculty member will serve as a resource now and could be a mentor in the future.
- Explore the state of North Carolina and the Raleigh area through a variety of trips to challenge courses, leadership conferences, and museums.

Find the Right Community for You

- Early College Credit Offers Opportunity (ECCOO)

A supportive environment for first-year students entering with college credits.

- Generating Excellence in Medicine and Science (GEMS)

A diverse community for students interested in pursuing a career in the medical field.

- Leadership Experience through Academic Development and Service (LEADS)

An engaging environment to explore leadership through service and personal development.

- Residents Interested in Science for Engineering (RISE)

An enriching community for all incoming first-year students majoring in engineering.

“Having that built-in community around to communicate and work together on our academics really helped.”

- Carah Watson

“I’ve found the RLC to be extremely beneficial to the transition process from high school to college. Being near those with similar interests and struggles has been both comforting and productive.”

- Julianne Faucett
