Financial Considerations

In order for your application to be complete, you must read and initial each item below.

_____ I have made a financial plan for this study abroad program and/or met with financial aid.

_____ I understand that I cannot be accepted unless cleared by the Campbell University Business Office.

_____ I understand a non-refundable deposit ($300) will be required to confirm my acceptance.

_____ I understand that program costs are separate from tuition fees for study abroad.

_____ I understand that my flight is not included in the program fee, and my flight details and arrival plan must be pre-approved by the Global Engagement Office.

_____ I understand that each program relies on a specific quota of students to meet the advertised program costs. Therefore, if I commit to a program and later drop out, I understand that I will adversely affect other students and may have non-refundable charges.

_____ I pledge to abide by the Withdrawal and Refund agreement and if I must withdraw after being accepted into a program, I must declare my withdrawal in writing to the Campbell University Global Engagement Office.

Please sign to confirm that you have read and understand the financial considerations above.

Statement of Purpose

Write a CONCISE statement addressing the following questions. Please type this double-spaced with your name and email to studyabroad@campbell.edu.

1. What about this program appeals to you? What do you hope to learn abroad
2. How do you imagine this program will impact you in the short term (as an undergraduate) and in the long term (post-graduation)?
3. In your opinion, what makes a student a good candidate for a study abroad program? Compare yourself with the ideal candidate you have imagined. Which characteristics do you possess, and which do you think might pose a challenge for you?

(Optional) Is there any relevant information about you that you would like the selection committee to know which was not included in the questions above?
