

CAMPBELL UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY
& HEALTH SCIENCES

DOCTOR OF
PHYSICAL THERAPY
CONVOCATION
CEREMONY

DECEMBER 17, 2021

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY & HEALTH SCIENCES

DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY
2021 CONVOCATION CEREMONY

Bradley Myers
*Interim Director and Associate Professor
Doctor of Physical Therapy Program
Presiding*

PROCESSIONAL Trumpet Tune in G Daniel W. Hester '79
Jeremy Bankson Organist

INVOCATION Justin Clarke
*Doctor of Physical Therapy Candidate
Class of 2021*

DIRECTOR REMARKS Dr. Myers

GREETINGS Wesley D. Rich, '01, '05
Associate Dean for Health Sciences

INTRODUCTION OF SPEAKER Dr. Myers

GUEST SPEAKER Jason Harloff, PT, MSPT, AT-REF
*Regional Director
Sports & More Physical Therapy*

STUDENT RECOGNITION Scot Sawyer
*Assistant Director &
Assistant Professor of Physical Therapy*

Heidi Shearin
*Assistant Professor of Physical Therapy
Director of Clinical Education*

Please stand for the Processional and Recessional*

STUDENT AWARDS

Deborah Constantine
Adjunct Clinical Assistant Professor of Physical Therapy

Clinical Excellence Award

Leadership Award

Dr. Angela Griffin Community Service Award

Academic Excellence

STUDENT REMARKS

Obed Mulenda
*Doctor of Physical Therapy Candidate
Class of 2021*

READING OF THE DPT OATH

Jacob Eversole
*Doctor of Physical Therapy Candidate
Class of 2021*

BENEDICTION

Monique Jones
*Doctor of Physical Therapy Candidate
Class of 2021*

RECESSIONAL

ADESTE FIDELES
John Wade

Dr. Hester

JASON HARLOFF, PT, MSPT, AT-RET

Regional Director, Sports & More Physical Therapy

Jason Harloff is an adjunct faculty member with the Doctor of Physical Therapy program at Campbell University. An active clinician, he currently serves as the regional director for Sports & More Physical Therapy. Prior to this role, he was a private practice owner from 2002 to 2019. He received a bachelor's degree in athletic training from the University of Delaware before completing his Master of Science in Physical Therapy

(MSPT) degree from D'Youville College in Buffalo, New York.

Jason has a passion for teaching and coaching. He serves as a guest lecturer for PT programs at Duke University, Elon University, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Jason has been involved in the American Physical Therapy Association of North Carolina (APTA NC) and is completing his term on the board of directors having served the past three years as chief delegate for North Carolina.

AWARDS

THE CLINICAL EXCELLENCE AWARD

Purpose: To recognize a graduating DPT student who has demonstrated significant improvement or consistent qualities of clinical excellence through professionalism, clinical skills, and commitment to promoting the physical therapy profession. Criteria for selection includes successful integration of didactic knowledge into clinical practice, feedback from clinical instructors related to outstanding professional behaviors, commitment to the mission of the DPT Program through rural-based clinical activities, interprofessional activities, compassionate patient-centered care, and demonstrated clinical performance to elevate the practice of physical therapy including use of EBM and advocacy such as participation in the Pro Bono Clinic or Farm Worker's Clinic.

THE LEADERSHIP AWARD

Purpose: To recognize a graduating DPT student who demonstrates exemplary leadership qualities. This person performs established and innovative methods in the delivery of patient care, initiates involvement in community service, charities and events, and develops relationships in professional organizations locally and nationally.

THE DR. ANGELA GRIFFIN COMMUNITY SERVICE MEMORIAL AWARD

Purpose: To recognize a DPT student who, in the spirit of Dr. Griffin, served with a generous heart to improve the well-being of members of the community. It is meant to honor the characteristics embodied by Dr. Griffin and found to be present in the recipient: regard and respect for those in need; compassion for others; empowerment through the sharing of knowledge; and initiative and effort on behalf of the underserved. This award recognizes a student who demonstrates outstanding community service beyond the academic requirements of the program, recognizes a community need and creates a solution, demonstrates a cooperative attitude toward community members and leaders, and performs activities in keeping with the core values of the profession. The recipient, in his or her service to others, exemplifies Christian character as a Campbell ambassador.

THE ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AWARD

Purpose: To recognize a graduating DPT student for outstanding academic achievement in coursework completed during the Doctor of Physical Therapy program. This graduating student has also shown a commitment to lifelong learning and to fostering learning in others.

DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY CLASS OF 2021

Tamara Ayscue	Carrie Keller
Hossam Boucteb	Jackson Kojima
Alexandra Broome	Ashley Kubit
Zachary Casey	Abby Lewis
Justin Clark	Katherine Moffitt
Christian Conaway	Obed Mulenda
D'jsha Daniels	Daniel Nugent
Keith Dunbar	Ashlyn Owens
Morgan Early	Nikita Patel
Jacob Eversole	Davidson Pollock
Jalecia Faison	Amanda Savino
Marc Gamboa	Lauren Scott
Ashton Grimm	William Shinkle
Jeremy Hicks	Ryan Swiezy
Allison Hilliard	Benjamin Thompson
Alexus Jernigan	Ryan Vrindten
Kelly John	Hunter Williams
Monique Jones	Emma Wolff
Jennifer Justice	Seraphina Wong

DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY FACULTY

Bridget Eubanks, PT, DPT	Bruce Newton, PhD
Michelle Green, PT, DPT	Scot Sawyer, PT, DPT
Lori Leneike, PT, DPT, EdD	Heidi Shearin, PT, DPT
Bradley Myers, PT, DPT, DSc	Victoria Smith, PT, DPT
Brian Nevelle, PT, DPT, PhD	Ale Garcia Trepte, PhD

DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY OATH

“In the presence of colleagues, friends, families and faculty, and in fulfilling the objective of Campbell University’s mission to live a purposeful life and give meaningful service, I solemnly and willingly state that I dedicate myself to the following:

- I will humbly practice Physical Therapy with compassion and altruistic care, using my knowledge and skill, recognizing the confidential nature and dignity of my patients, assisting them along the way to their greatest potential in health and wellness.
- Utilizing up-to-date evidence, I will address the impairments of each patient, mindfully and sincerely, while abiding by ethical and legal requirements.
- I will strive to provide access for the underserved, and create opportunities for cooperative interdisciplinary patient-centered care.
- I will be an advocate for my patients and honor the choices they make in respect to their wishes and needs.
- I will demonstrate integrity during all interactions for myself and for the advancement of my profession.
- I will enhance my practice through educational opportunities, evolving as a clinician and movement scientist, ensuring life-long growth as a physical therapist.
- In recognizing my own limitations, I will seek knowledge and guidance from my colleagues, offering the same in return with respect and understanding.

With this oath, as a Doctor of Physical Therapy, I promise to exceed the standards of the profession, and with pride create a meaningful life of service.”

CAMPBELL
UNIVERSITY

Leading with purpose